

Antoine Blondeau

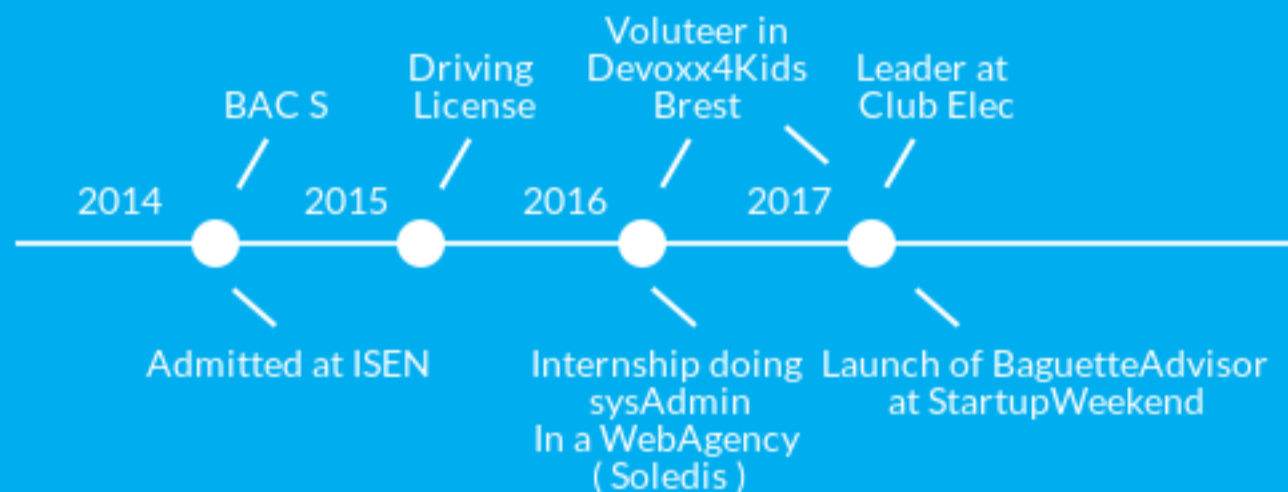

Engineering student

Currently searching for a part-time internship over 1 year, as of the 1st of October

I'm a linux, FOSS (Free & Open Source Software) enthusiast, I like hacking stuff with raspberry pi, I'm interested in complex systems and I would like to learn more about distributed systems and infrastructure monitoring, I have also a good knowledge of back-end developpement and docker.
I live and study in France, in Brest

Things i like to learn & proficiencies

Countries i've already visited

On my spare time i like travelling, talking with people from different horizons, sailing and doing DIY Hacks with 3D printers
